Personal Data Policy

1. Your personal information is being processed by World Athletics. World Athletics is located in Monaco and its principal office is at 6-8, Quai Antoine 1er, BP 359, MC 98007 Monaco Cedex. As an association recognised under the laws of Monaco, World Athletics is subject to law 1,165 dated December 23, 1993 on data protection (as amended) and also complies with the EU General Data Protection Regulations 2016.
2. World Athletics respects your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal information. This policy relates to our use of any personal information submitted through the application process under the Mechanical Aids Regulations.
3. This policy explains the following:
 - a) the type of information we collect;
 - b) how the information is used;
 - c) where the information is stored;
 - d) whether we will disclose your details to anyone else; and
 - e) how to find out what personal information is stored.
4. In the table below we set out what personal information we process, the business purpose it covers, the legal basis upon which we process the data and retention period for that data. Please note we will retain personal information beyond of the retention period where we have brought or are defending a legal claim which runs beyond the retention period.

Type of Personal Information	Business Purpose	Legal Basis upon which it is used	Retention Period
Name, gender, information about your physical impairment or other medical information, performance and/or testing data; any analysis and/or expert (medical or other) opinions about you	To review your application to use a Mechanical Aids	Consent	From date of your application to its conclusion plus 5 years

5. By submitting your personal information, you agree to the transfer, storing or processing of your personal information. We will always take all reasonable precautions to make sure that your data remains secure, handled in accordance with this policy and has the same legal protection as it would have if it remained in Monaco.
6. You are advised however that the transmission of data via the internet is not completely secure and therefore we cannot guarantee the security of data sent to us electronically. Any transmission of such data is therefore entirely at your own risk and in this respect, we recommend that you take all necessary measures, for instance by sending your data in encrypted format.

Will my information be shared with anyone else?

7. In the table below we set out the entities that may have access to your personal information and the reason for such access.

Who	Why?
Members of the Mechanical Aids Review Panel	To assess your application
World Athletics Appointed Experts	To assess your application and/or carry out an in-person assessment
World Athletics Appointed Representatives (External Counsel)	To assist in the assessment of your application and/or if you challenge a decision
Appeal Body / Court of Arbitration for Sport	If you decide to challenge a decision of the Mechanical Aids Review Panel

Your rights in respect of personal information

8. World Athletics has a number of obligations in relation to how it handles your personal data. World Athletics is committed to the key principles of transparency, consent (where applicable), security and data minimisation. Alongside relying on World Athletics meeting its obligations, you have several rights that you are entitled to exercise.

a) The right to object

One key right is the right to stop processing (right to object): This allows you to do three things:

- You object to the disclosure of your information to the third parties listed above, but we must inform you that it will be difficult to process your application and provide a decision of the Mechanical Aids Review Panel the purposes of providing the basis on which you participate in the sport of athletics without that information being disclosed.
- You have the right to object to World Athletics processing information about you where we process on the basis of 'legitimate interest'. If you believe this to be the case, you should contact us and provide an explanation of your particular situation so that we be able to appreciate the interests at stake.
- You have the right to ask World Athletics not to process personal data for purposes of sending you direct marketing. World Athletics does not use your personal data from this application for such purposes.

b) The other rights are:

- Right of access: In accordance with the provisions of the data protection laws, you have certain rights to request a copy of your own personal data held by World Athletics. You can request to receive a copy of your personal information in a readily understandable format within a reasonable timeframe (one month from the date of the request).
- Right to rectification: You have the right to ask for rectification of inaccurate or incomplete personal data which it has about you after you have been registered for accreditation. Where World Athletics positively knows that the personal information that it is processing is inaccurate or incomplete, World Athletics shall, as appropriate, rectify, amend, complete or update the relevant personal information as soon as possible. Where appropriate, if the personal information in question has been disclosed to a third party that is known or believed to continue to process the personal information, the third party shall be informed of the change as soon as possible.
- Right to erasure: you have the right to ask to erase your personal data in some circumstances, including where the information held by World Athletics is no longer necessary for the purposes for which it is processed, you withdraw your consent to its use, or we can no longer lawfully process the data. However, if you do exercise this right during the application process then it will make it difficult to assess your application and make a decision about whether or not your Mechanical Aids are permitted or not.
- Right to restriction of processing: you can restrict our processing of your data in some circumstances. This applies where, for example, if you contest the accuracy of the personal data we use or object to us using the information on the basis of a 'legitimate interest' (see part a above (the right to object)). Please note that where you ask us to restrict processing, we can still store it subject to the retention period, and use it to establish or defend legal claims, which may run beyond the retention period stated.
- Right to data portability: This permits you to receive from World Athletics a copy of your personal data in an electronic file or format that commonly be used on different devices and machines, and to transfer your personal data from World Athletics to another data controller or have the data transmitted directly between two data controllers.
- Right to object to automatic processing: you have the right not to be subject to decisions based solely on automated processing which significantly affect them. The Mechanical Aids Regulations application process does not make decisions based on automatic processing as all information is submitted to the Mechanical Aids Review Panel (as such this right is not applicable).
